XTERRA
TRAIL RUN WORLD SERIES

The Comapedrosa Mountain Festival and XTERRA Trail Run World Series

On 26th and 27th of July, at the Comapedrosa Mountain Festival, elite and amateur runners will gather in the majestic setting of Arinsal-La Massana to take part in an emblematic event, now in its 21st edition. With four distances: Marathon, Skyrace Comapedrosa, Skyrace Arinsal and Vertical. The runners will run along routes that are characterised by altitude and technicality, under the watchful eye of the highest peak in Andorra, the Pic del Comapedrosa, at 2,942 metres.

The Skyrace Comapedrosa is a very special event. It is a fixed date in the international calendar and one of the most important reference races for trail running enthusiasts. It has always had a very high level of participation and the Comapedrosa valleys have hosted world trail running stars such as Kilian Jornet, Tom Owens, Denisa Dragomir, Christian Mathys and Sheila Avilés.

XTERRA Trail Run World Series

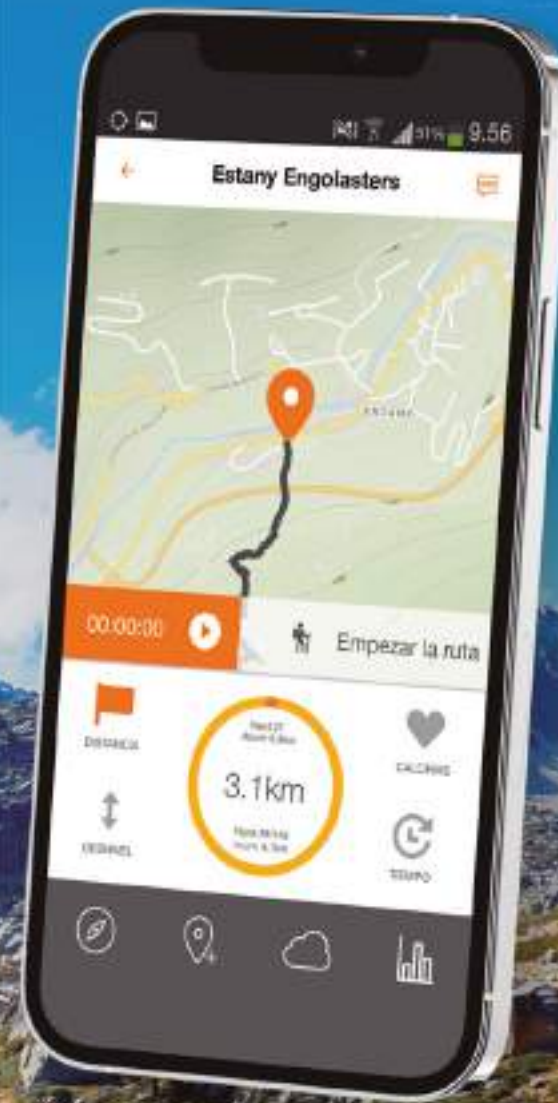

The XTERRA Trail Run World Series invites runners of all levels—from amateur to elite—to come together and uncover the world’s most scenic and challenging trails. From the tropical paths of the Asia-Pacific to Europe’s towering ridgelines and the sweeping desert landscapes of the USA, this series is a global journey for those who live to explore—one full or half marathon.

Built for runners of all backgrounds, the XTERRA Trail Run World Series features two accessible core distances—Trail Half and Trail Marathon. Whether you're chasing a personal best, soaking in the views, or simply joining the global trail running community, both formats offer equal adventure and an equal opportunity to earn your place at the Trail Run World Championship in your chosen distance.
